

NOTE
The many reliable business firms who are advertising in the Tee-Dee Want A. I. columns to-day. They do so because it pays.

The Times

Dispatch

REMEMBER
That to-day's Tee-Dee Want A. I. columns are full of all kinds of bargains. It will pay you to read them.

THE TIMES, FOUNDED 1858.
THE DISPATCH, FOUNDED 1859.

WHOLE NUMBER 16,651.

RICHMOND, VA., SUNDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1904.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S NEWS

The Weather.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Forecast for Sunday and Monday:
Virginia—Fair Sunday and Monday; light to fresh west winds, becoming variable.
North Carolina—Fair Sunday and Monday; light to fresh variable winds.

Richmond's weather yesterday was cool, clear and pleasant.

RANGE OF THE THERMOMETER.
6 A. M. 67
8 A. M. 67
10 A. M. 67
12 M. 67
2 P. M. 67
4 P. M. 67
6 P. M. 67
8 P. M. 67
10 P. M. 67
12 M. 67
Average 67.13

Highest temperature yesterday, 73.
Lowest temperature yesterday, 64.
Mean temperature yesterday, 67.
Normal temperature for October, 61.
Departure from normal temperature, 6.
Precipitation during past 24 hours, .00.

MINIATURE ALMANAC.
October 2, 1904.
Sun rises, 6:07
Sun sets, 5:53
Moon rises, 11:35
Moon sets, 11:35

October 3, 1904.
Sun rises, 6:07
Sun sets, 5:51
Moon rises, 12:00
Moon sets, 11:44

Richmond.
Both sides are claiming victory in the Council fight, in which Mr. Oates a pit d aga nst Mr. Jackson, and lively times are expected at the Council meeting to-morrow night. Many fine houses are on offer for the Richmond Horse Show, and other exhibitors will doubtless be read from—Unknown man killed on railroad tracks in Fulton—Kershaw court begins term to-morrow with an unusually heavy docket—Brownies win the pennant of Six and City League—Heard of the concluding game being witnessed by 1,000 spectators—Henrico Republicans elect delegates to District Convention to be held in this city Tuesday—College of Law, Law School of Richmond, will be nominated to make campaign against Edgar Allan, a candidate of street railway company's reversionary will be argued before Judge Waddell to-morrow—Justice Crutcher goes to New York to consult with a physician—Baptist Convention of the House and will conduct an aggressive and helpful mission, MANCHESTER—Fairmount official became disconcerted and was arrested—Mayor Norris awards prize to Manchester's three most popular young ladies—Services—Briefs.

Virginia.
Henry Hudson shoots and kills Robert Smith in Isle of Wight county, using first shot and then a pistol. Captain City veterans to hold their annual reunion next Wednesday—Negro driver at Newport News run over and killed—Methodist Missionary Society to meet in Staunton—Louisiana county's courthouse bonds sold to a Chicago firm—Negro hotel keeper charged with Suffolk College, V. P. I. defeats Richmond College by the score of 18 to 0—William and Mary beat Norfolk High School 16 to 0—North Carolina—Richmond College, 1—Grand Lodge, Benevolent Order of Buffalo in session at Roanoke, elects officers and decides to meet next at Atlanta—Reunion of the Sons of the American Light Horse—Edward Totten, or Christiansburg, shot and seriously wounded, while trying to stop a light—Richmond, very much interested in getting electric wires under ground—Year's tobacco sales in Petersburg reaches quite a record—J. B. Johnson, a prominent Mason, dies at Bristol, at the advanced age of ninety-one—Members of Turner-Ashby Camp to attend reunion in Pennsylvania—Roanoke Fair closed after successful exhibition—Both Democrats and Republicans have speaking at Christiansburg.

North Carolina.
Nolle prosequi entered in the famous McBe case, which has attracted so much attention—Republicans and Democrats unite in making nominations for the Legislature—Dr. Snyder inaugurated as president of the State College—Death of O. E. Pemberton, of Troy—Liberal gift for a handsome church organ—Big new lumber concern at Spencer.

General.
News from the Far East still very indefinite; fighting said to be growing in intensity to the west of Mukden; Japanese advance on the east coast to be checked; reports that Japanese supply ships have been captured by Russia and burned; much interest in reported forthcoming campaign of the Japanese and trusts; Odell said to have who a horde of spies watching Platt's doings—White man lynched in South Carolina—Virginia a hard fight with Pennsylvania; score 24 to 0; other football games of the day—Both Boston and New York win and American League team still in doubt—Cricket—Cricket race to be held next Saturday—Prince Alfred falls in effort to break world's record by swimming across the Atlantic—Trust Company—Dankardly city uncovered by officials of the government; much use from to increase weight of different coins to be used by steamship companies for life preservers—Clear Manufacturers' Association of Cuba was a government to make prize medals—Lady Curzon makes progress.

FUNERAL OF SENATOR HOAR TO-MORROW
(By Associated Press.)
WORCESTER, MASS., Oct. 1.—The arrangements for the funeral of United States Senator George F. Hoar were completed to-night. The services will be at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Church of Unity, which Senator Hoar had attended for more than fifty years. Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, of Boston, the first pastor of the church, and one of the senator's closest personal friends, will officiate and deliver the eulogy. After the funeral the body will lie in state in the City Hall from 4 to 8 o'clock. The burial will be at Concord.

FIRST OF LYNCHERS NOT TO BE CLEARED
(By Associated Press.)
HUNTSVILLE, ALA., Oct. 1.—Tom Winkle, charged with arson, has been acquitted. A mislaid was the result in the case against James Mitchell, charged with murder, and the jury returned a verdict of acquittal. Mitchell will be held for trial at the February term of court. He is the first alleged lyncher who has failed to be cleared by the jury.

91 WANT HELP TO-DAY.
The 91st advertisement to help published in today's Times-Dispatch on page 6 is as follows:

13 Office, 14 Professional, 17 Agents, 25 Salesmen, 3 Domestic, 7 Trades, 5 Labor.

This not only interests those out of work, but those desiring to improve their positions as well.

WHITE MAN LYNCHED FOR CRIME

Deliberately Killed Another Who Refused to Change Ten Cents.

TAKEN FROM JAIL BY FURIOUS MOB

Troops Ordered Out, But Arrive Too Late to Rescue Prisoner—First Case of its Kind in the History of South Carolina.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
KERSHAW, S. C., October 1.—The first lynching of a white man ever reported in South Carolina occurred here to-night, when John Morrison, who killed Will Floyd, this afternoon was taken from jail by an enraged mob of citizens and lynched.

Morrison killed Floyd because Floyd refused to give him change for ten cents. When Floyd was asked for the change and replied that he did not have it, Morrison immediately shot him down. Trouble was feared as soon as the crime became known. Governor Heyward was asked for assistance, and troops were coming on a special train, but the mob did its work before the troops got here. Morrison had a bad record. He had killed three men in the past few months, the last being a negro, whom he killed without the least excuse.

Troops Arrive Too Late.

(By Associated Press.)
CHARLESTON, S. C., October 1.—John Morrison shot and killed Willie Floyd at Kershaw this afternoon, after a few words over a loan of ten cents. Floyd being very popular, great indignation was felt in the county. Morrison was arrested.

Captain Zemp, of the Kershaw Guards, with about thirty members of his company, went to Kershaw from Camden on a special train in response to Governor Heyward's orders, but before he arrived on the scene Morrison had been taken from jail and lynched.

Governor's Statement.

Governor Heyward gave out a statement to-night in regard to the lynching of John Morrison, at Kershaw. Governor Heyward was severe in his condemnation of the lynching, as he is of all lynchings. He said to-night that he wants the people of South Carolina to know that he condemns lynching, a blot upon our civilization, and that no crime committed makes mob law excusable. Even in cases of criminal assault punishment by death can and will be meted out by the courts, and the records of recent years proved that lynching for this crime leads to lynching for other crimes. The time has come, he feels, when the good people of the State, the law-abiding people, should rise up and call a halt.

MAN AND FAMILY DROWNED IN FLOOD

(By Associated Press.)
LAS VEGAS, N. M., October 1.—J. E. Stevens and his family, consisting of three women and a child, and the Villager family of four, are reported to have been drowned in the flood at Watrous. The flood damage in Las Vegas is estimated at $75,000 and along the Santa Fe Railroad line the damage amounts to many thousands.

All wires are down except one to Santa Fe over the Denver and Rio Grande.

MAGAZINES IN FLAMES; HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 1.—A dispatch to a news agency here from Sevastopol says that the artillery and ammunition magazines there are in flames and it is feared there has been considerable loss of life. Detachments of troops and seamen are succeeding in controlling the flames.

GET THE BALLARD FOR MISSION WORK

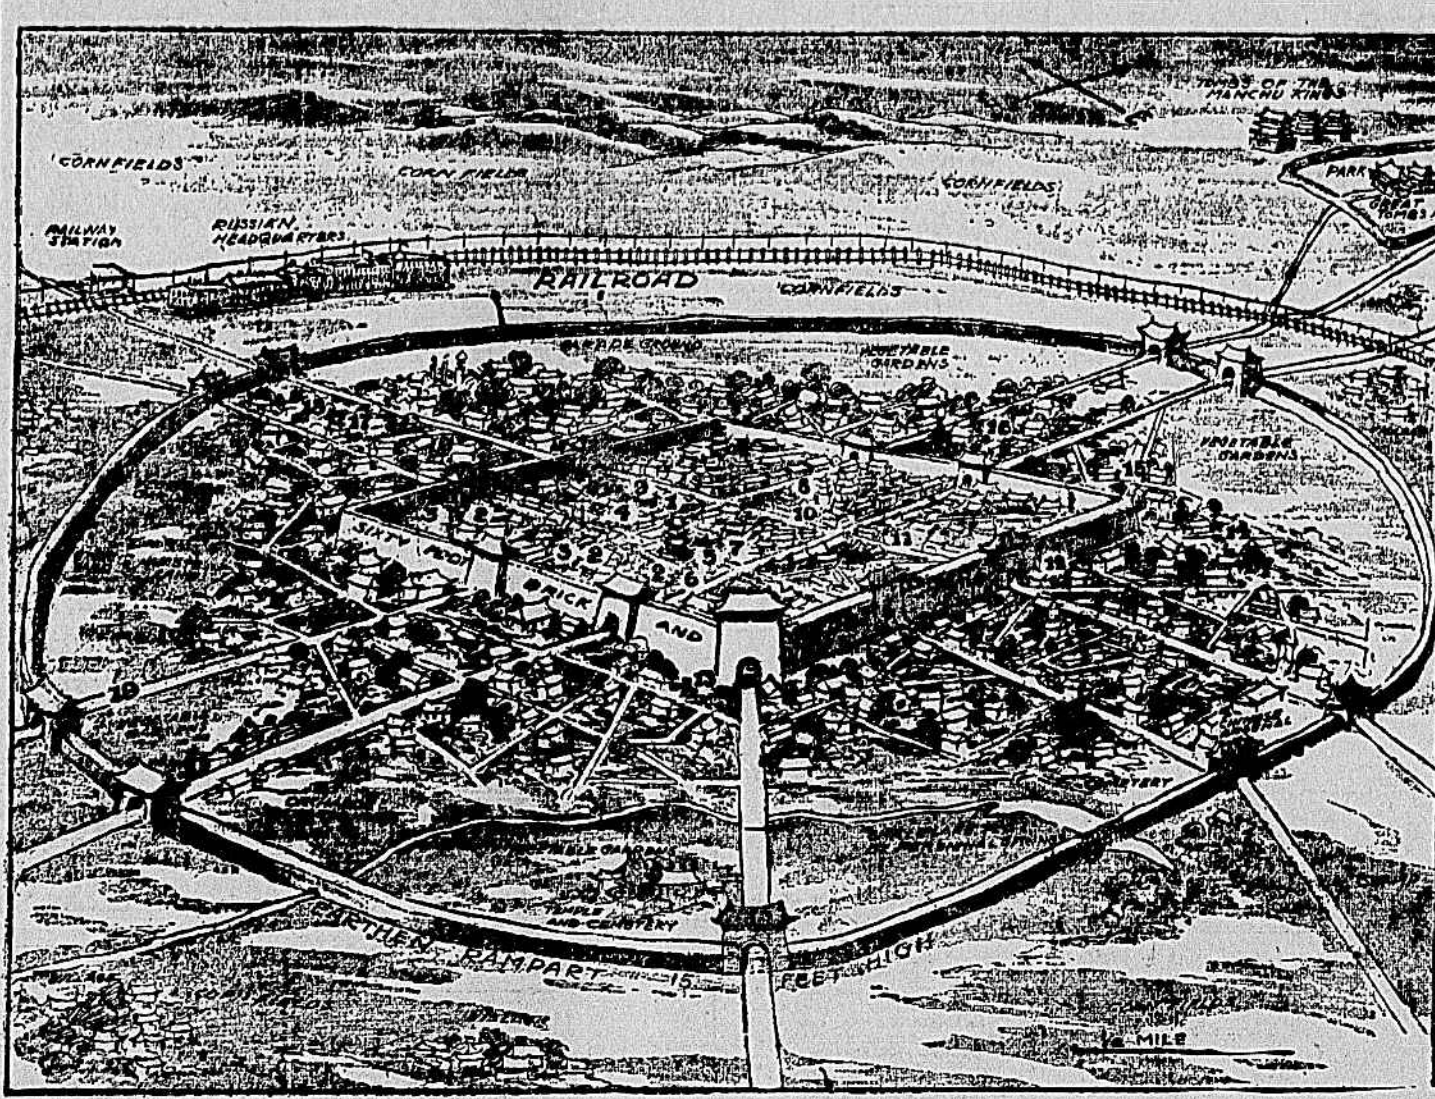

Baptists Lease This Building and to Enter Upon an Aggressive Campaign.

The Executive Committee of the Baptist Council, representing the united work of all the Baptist churches in Richmond and Manchester, has just leased the Hallard House, Franklin and Fourteenth Streets, which will be used as headquarters for general city mission work.

Rev. James Buchanan and his wife, both of whom have had much and varied experience in different lines of missionary activity, will have direct charge of the work. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan have been here several weeks, and have made a careful study of the field. The Ballard House has been decided upon as the best possible location for beginning operations. There is ample room and the place is admirably adapted in every way. It will be the center from which many plans will be projected.

The establishment of a reading room, the inauguration of a lunch room and the fitting up of rooms for transients will be among the features at the beginning. Others will follow. After a short while there will be services at the mission several nights each week.

MUKDEN, THE CENTER OF THE PRESENT WAR ZONE.

KEY TO THE PLAN OF MUKDEN.
1. Inclosure and buildings of Imperial palace, much of it in ruins.
2. Grammar of the government of South Manchuria.
3. City and provincial prisons.
4. Imperial Chinese postoffice.
5. Treasury of Southern Manchuria.
6. Russo-Chinese bank.
7. Imperial pavilions, where receptions were once held.
8. Large drum tower.
9. Cattle market.
10. "Bring Peace" street, rich and busy shops.
11. Fruit, vegetable and meat market.
12. Clothing market.
13. Coal, coke and lime markets.
14. Russian church and schools.
15. Residence of Chinese Imperial ambassador, now used as a Russian telegraph and postoffice.
16. Banks of great Shansi.
17. Residence of Russian diplomatic agent.
18. Road to Liao Yang.

QUESTION OF DIVORCE

Will Probably Cause Great Stir at Episcopal Convention This Week.

ARCHBISHOP TO BE PRESENT

Leading Prelates Indicate Some of the Points to be Discussed.

(By BISHOP NILES, of the P. E. Church.)
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, October 1.—The Episcopal Convention, which opens its first session to-morrow in Boston, is a legislative body, and not at all for mere discussion, excepting as that discussion runs to legislation for the church.

This year it is thought that much more time will be given to missionary matters in a simple and popular way than at previous conventions. At certain times, the convention sits and does business as a member of missions. In this session it is quite likely that the canon shaping or machinery of the church will be considerably modified in the hope of making it more effective.

Several large Bible missionary meetings may be held, the first night, for instance, in Trinity Church, and afterwards in Symphony Hall, or other large halls of the city. Addresses will be made by foreign bishops and other persons much interested in missions, and probably at one or more of the meetings the Archbishop of Canterbury will speak. He is now visiting this country for the first time that a primate of England has ever come to these shores.

The convention is made up of two houses—the house of bishops, sitting by themselves, and not open to the public, and the house of deputies, made up of four priests and four lay representatives from each diocese, chosen by the annual synod of each diocese. This makes, therefore, a very large body. In all legislation the two houses must agree. The house of bishops and the house of deputies sitting separately have one place each like the Senate and House of Representatives.

Probably various proposed modifications of the canon in connection with marriage and divorce will excite more interest than any one subject of this convention.

Permission will be asked at this convention to use what is commonly called the revised version of the English Bible in reading the chapters in the church. The sick men may or may not be given. By this permission light would undoubtedly be thrown upon some passages which are somewhat obscure.

FORTY-EIGHT STRICKEN WHILE ON PARADE

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Forty-eight men of the One hundred and twenty-third Company, Coast Artillery, were stricken with neurine poisoning while in parade to-day at Fort Hamilton, where the company is stationed. Three of them are in a serious condition. The trouble was attributed to the heat set in at breakfast. The remainder of the company of one hundred men suffered to some extent from nausea. The sick men were placed in the hospital. Twenty of them were still confined to their beds late to-night. A formal investigation will be made.

JAPANESE HELD AT BAY EAST OF MUKDEN

Heavy Fighting Reported to the West, Where Kuropatkin Is Desperately Guarding His Flanks.

Reports from war zone continues distressingly meagre in point of detail. A dispatch from Sin-Min-Tun says the fighting about Mukden is assuming a more determined character. The hardest struggle is to the west of the railroad, where Oku, with 50,000 men, is at work. The Japanese outposts are now within five miles of the south bank of the Hun and within seven miles of Mukden. The exact position of Kuropatkin's troops has not yet been developed.

The suggestion that important developments are proceeding in Manchuria comes from St. Petersburg, but is not followed up with any definiteness of detail. The Russian general staff announced late last night that it was in receipt of advices which indicate that the Japanese advance to the eastward of Mukden has been checked, and that the movement in that direction was, in fact, of little importance. These advices come from General Sakharoff, who brings the narrative of events up to September 30th. Two reports of raids of vessels carrying supplies for the Japanese have reached St. Petersburg. It is considered probable that they refer to the same affair, though the rumor of vessels destroyed, and the locality of the action are differently stated in the two dispatches.

Widespread discussion is being given to the reported forthcoming changes in the Russian naval commands. While the necessity for the changes is generally admitted, it is doubtful if the czar will immediately sanction the reorganization. Vice Admiral Avellan flatly denies the report of his retirement from the ministry of the marine.

General Kuropatkin's friends still assert that he is to be chief in command of the Russian forces in Manchuria. Viceroy Alexieff will be relieved with much pomp upon his return to St. Petersburg, where he will be quartered in the winter palace and otherwise honored. His return to the Far East as viceroy at the conclusion of the war is by many persons considered to be quite possible.

DETERMINED FIGHTING.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch. Copyright 1904.)
SIN MIN TUN, Oct. 1.—The fighting about Mukden is gradually assuming a more determined character, as the Japanese columns converge on the main Russian position. The hardest fighting for the past few days has been to the west of the railroad, where Oku, with 50,000 men, is making an effort to take the railroad some distance above Mukden. The Japanese center has also advanced, and the outposts are now within five miles of the south bank of the Hun, and within seven miles of Mukden. The exact position of Kuropatkin's troops has not yet been developed. Since the taking of the Da Pass, the Japanese engaged there, who are supposed to be the left wing of Kuropatkin's army, have pushed steadily forward with comparatively little opposition, and are now close to the Hun, some fifteen miles southeast of Mukden. Reports reaching here, however, indicate that Kuropatkin's main body, numbering some sixty thousand men, is well to the north of the Hun, but whether its objective point is Tieling or some place between Tieling and Mukden, has not yet been developed. Kuropatkin is making desperate efforts to protect his flanks, both of which are being seriously threatened, and unless he retreats to Tieling within the next few days, he may be forced to give battle and risk the integrity of his entire command.

LIFE NOW HANGS IN THE BALANCE

Small Hope Entertained for the Recovery of Postmaster-General Payne.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., October 1.—Postmaster-General Payne's life to-night hangs in the balance. He has been unable to maintain the improvement over last night noted in the early morning bulletin. Late in the afternoon he had a sinking spell and failed to rally as quickly as heretofore from the stimulants administered.

At 8 o'clock, though he was reported as not so well, he began to respond to treatment, and an hour later was said to be resting quietly. Small hope, however, is held out for his recovery, and the members of the family who have been summoned to the bedside have been made to realize his true condition. At one time to-day the pulse was barely perceptible. It developed to-night that several times during the day Mr. Payne lost consciousness. He was unconscious when the 9 o'clock bulletin was issued.

At 8 o'clock to-night the following bulletin was issued:

"Mr. Payne has been very restless since afternoon. He is not as well as well as this morning, but has continued to take nourishment during the entire day. He responds well to the remedies employed. Condition still very serious."

(Signed)
"MAGRUDER,"
"GRAYSON."

ADVANCE CHECKED.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 2, 1:25 A. M.—A dispatch from General Sakharoff, received by the general staff late to-night, brings the record of events up to September 30th. It shows that the Japanese advance on the eastern side in the region of Bentanputze has been checked. This movement still appears to be an outpost affair, not accompanied with serious fighting, no advance of the Japanese in force having occurred up to the day mentioned. The operations to the west of Mukden have extended twenty-six miles down the Hun River, where the Japanese were temporarily driven out from Tachan and seventeen supply boats were burned. It is possible that this raid is identical with that one reported by the Associated Press from Mukden, though in the latter it is stated to have occurred.

(Continued on Sixth Page)

HORSE SHOW ENTRIES IN

Time Limit Expires, But Many Blue Ribbons Yet to Come.

ALL RECORDS ARE BROKEN

More Fine Animals Than Heretofore and People Seem Eager.

Entries for the fourth annual exhibition of the Richmond Horse Show Association nominally closed last night, but any mailed up to midnight or telegraphed to the secretary will be included. The number already received is much greater than at this date last year. Hundreds of entries are expected in to-day's mail.

Of the entries received yesterday, these had been classified up to yesterday evening, and do not include Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor's stable and others from outside the State, which have been received some days ago:

E. B. Snyder, Richmond—King Dodo, hunter and Ethelene C. hunter.
S. C. Byers, Augusta county—Sadie B. saddle.
Andrew Pollard, Richmond—Crown Prince, roadster.
H. O. Lyne, Orange—Flirt, saddle.
Napoleon Loder, Richmond—Pony Belinda.
T. H. Pemberton, New York—Ponies Edith and Lizzie.
Robert M. Taylor, Towson, Md.—Grey Rock, hunter.
Misses Johnson, Richmond—pony Rutons.
Harry W. Spratley, Surry, Va.—

(Continued on Fourth Page.)

GET INJUNCTION RESTRAINING TOWN

Newspapers and Livery Stables Refuse to be Closed on Sunday.

(By Associated Press.)
LEXINGTON, KY., October 1.—Beginning at midnight to-night every form of industry in Lexington must observe the Sunday closing law. The chief of police advised newspapers that their employees would be arrested at midnight.

Editors say that daily papers will run as usual. Employees will submit to arrest, secure bail and continue their work. Livery stables, milk wagons, ice wagons, barber shops, saloons and all kinds of markets were ordered to close under penalty of arrest.

All the livery stable men and all but one of the morning newspapers secured a temporary injunction against the city of Lexington, Chief of Police J. J. Keegan and Chief of Detectives Marshall, restraining them from interfering with the plaintiffs. Motion for permanent injunction will be made on Monday. The papers were served at 11:30 o'clock. The Herald did not sue for a restraining or-

(Continued on Sixth Page)

CAMPAIGN ORATORS IN FIELD

Fight Began in New York and Speeches Made in Several Other Places.

SPIES WATCHING PLATT ADHERENTS

Odell Said to Have Whole Horde of Informers at His Command—John Sharp Williams Assails Trusts. Knox Speaks in Philadelphia.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, October 1.—The Democratic campaign may be said to have been formally opened in New York to-day, when the candidates on the State ticket were notified of their nomination. Judge Hestrick, in a strong speech, declared his aim would be to serve the State rather than the party, and to ferret out all grafters, wherever found. Francis Burton Harrison, the candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, made a powerful appeal for a return to an honest and frugal administration of laws, both in State and nation.

An interesting feature of the Republican campaign is the employment of a horde of political spies by Governor Odell, in order to keep track of Platt's adherents and guard against any possible party treachery. These spies are to be scattered all over the State and will report direct to headquarters.

Speech by Williams.

John Sharp Williams, minority leader in Congress, opened the Democratic campaign at the first big mass meeting in Brooklyn to-night by launching an attack on the Republican party's attitude toward the trusts. The interest taken in the subject of his speech was testified by the crowd, which seemed out to hear him and the enthusiasm manifested at his many sharp thrusts at President Roosevelt, former Attorney-General Knox and at Chairman Cortelyou, of the National Committee. Notwithstanding the fact that the trust issue was only lightly touched upon, in the Democratic national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded it as the paramount issue of the campaign. He reviewed the Northern Securities merger, and asked why the national and State platforms, and barely referred to by Judge Parker in his speech and letter of acceptance, Mr. Williams handled his subject as if he regarded